Pace Environmental Law Review

Volume 26
Issue 2 Summer 2009
40 Years and Counting Relicensing the First Generation of Nuclear Power Plants

Article 6

June 2009

Introduction: Lloyd K. Garrison Lecture on Environmental Law

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.pace.edu/pelr

Recommended Citation
, Introduction: Lloyd K. Garrison Lecture on Environmental Law, 26 Pace Envtl. L. Rev. 449 (2009)
Available at: http://digitalcommons.pace.edu/pelr/vol26/iss2/6

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Law at DigitalCommons@Pace. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pace Environmental Law Review by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Pace. For more information, please contact cpittson@law.pace.edu.

LLOYD K. GARRISON LECTURE ON ENVIRONMENTAL LAW

The Lloyd K. Garrison Lecture at Pace University School of Law celebrates the vision, public spirit, and life of Lloyd K. Garrison, an attorney who over forty years ago, along with his associate, Albert K. Butzel, of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison, helped usher in the field of environmental law by winning the landmark case of Scenic Hudson Preservation Conference v. Federal Power Commission, 354 F.2d 608 (2d Cir. 1965) cert. denied, 384 U.S. 941 (1966) to preserve Storm King Mountain on the Hudson River. Lloyd K. Garrison was a graduate of Harvard College and School of Law. During his long and illustrious career he helped start the National Labor Relations Board, served as Dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School, marked his role with the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and participated in numerous federal commissions and agency activities for such Presidents as Herbert Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. A great-grandson of William Lloyd Garrison, he was also a member of the National Urban League and labored constantly in support of civil rights, defending Arthur Miller, Langston Hughes and J. Robert Oppenheimer during the McCarthy Era. Lloyd K. Garrison passed away in 1991 at the age of ninety-three. This Lecture was established in his honor and memory in 1995, four years after his death.

LECTURERS

Robert V. Percival, 2009
Robert F. Stanton Professor of Law and Director of the Environmental Law Program at University of Maryland School of Law
"The Globalization of Environmental Law"

Hope Babcock, 2008
Professor of Law, Georgetown University
"Global Climate Change: A Civic Republican Moment"

John Bonine, 2007
Professor of Law, University of Oregon School of Law
“From Silent Spring to Sweltering Summers: The Past and Future of Private Public Interest Law”

Karin P. Sheldon, 2006
Professor of Law, Associate Dean for the Environmental Law Program and Director of the Environmental Law Center, Vermont Law School
“Upstream of Peril: The Role of Federal Lands in Addressing the Extinction Crisis"

Cass R. Sunstein, 2005
Karl N. Llewellyn Distinguished Service Professor of Jurisprudence, University of Chicago Law School
"Irreversible and Catastrophic: Global Warming, Terrorism, and other Problems"

Edith Brown Weiss, 2004
Francis Cabell Brown Professor of Law, Georgetown University Law Center
"International Water Disputes"

J. William Futrell, 2003
President of the Environmental Law Institute (ELI)
"The Transition to Sustainable Development Law"

Zygmunt J. B. Plater, 2002
Professor of Law, Boston College Law School
"Environmental Law at the Crossroads: The Road Travelled and the Road Ahead"

Gerald Torres, 2001
H. O. Head Centennial Professor in Real Property Law, University of Texas Law School
"Who Owns the Sky?"

A. Dan Tarlock, 2000
Distinguished Professor of Law and Co-Director Program in Environmental and Energy Law, Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology
"The Future of Environmental 'Rule of Law' Litigation"

Richard J. Lazarus, 1999
Professor of Law, Georgetown University Law Center
"Thirty Years of Environmental Protection Law in the Supreme Court"

Oliver A. Houck, 1998
Professor of Law and Director of Environmental Law Programs, Tulane University School of Law
"Environmental Law and the General Welfare"

William H. Rodgers, Jr., 1997
Professor of Law, University of Washington School of Law
"Defeating Environmental Law: The Geology of Legal Advantage"

Joseph L. Sax, 1996
Counselor to Secretary of the Interior Bruce Babbitt and Deputy Assistant Secretary for Policy, U.S. Department of the Interior
"Using Property Rights to Attack Environmental Protection"

David Sive, 1995
Founding Partner, Sive, Paget, & Reisel, P.C.
Adjunct Professor of Law, Pace Law School
"The Litigation Process in the Development of Environmental Law"