

Pace University

DigitalCommons@Pace

Social Justice Week

Centers, Institutes, and Pace Org.

10-2022

Social Justice Reads mini zine

Jessica Kiebler

Jennifer Rosenstein

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.pace.edu/social_justice_week

Part of the Information Literacy Commons

<https://bit.ly/3eED073>

- This zine has information about:
- issues of social justice related to information literacy & access
- definitions & descriptions of the issues
- The bit.ly below includes resources to learn more

WHAT'S IN THIS ZINE?

PACE
UNIVERSITY

Library

SOCIAL JUSTICE READS MINI-ZINE

Information privilege
is the ability to access information others cannot; this usually includes the most credible, scholarly, and peer-reviewed information. (Wikipedia)

Resources:
Information Privilege
Backpack: <https://bit.ly/3yVCWDD>

Questions? Just ask!

asklibrary.pace.edu

@pacelibrary

Algorithm bias

Resources:

- Book: "Algorithms of Oppression" by Safiya Noble

Resources:

- Algorithms automate actions using computer language. Due to human inputs or unrepresentative data, they can re-create systemic biases.

Accessibility in libraries

- Are libraries accessible to all patrons, both in-person and online?
- Is the profession welcoming to disabled library workers?

Resource:

- Follow #CripLib on Twitter

Critical cataloging

- What words do libraries use to describe people & information?
 - How do these subjects group information that reinforces existing stereotypes & prevent information access?
- Resources:
- American Libraries Magazine Article: <https://bit.ly/3sbrN4e>

Inclusive citations

- How diverse are your references?
- Whose voices & perspectives are you including in your research?
- How does peer review limit diversity in research?

Resource:

- citeblackwomenscollective.org